Bombings Killed 17 In Year, Police Say

Washington — (AP) — Seventeen persons were killed and 178 were injured in bombings during the year ended June 30, 1971, according to a report issued by a private organization.

The National Bomb Data Center of the International Association of Chiefs of Police said racial protest was the most frequent motive in the 1,858 bombings reported during the period, which caused an estimated $15.6 million in property damage.

Other attacks were attributed to political and antiwar protests, public safety harassment, revenge and juvenile vandalism, the report said.
